

Copyright, Bio, and More 230223

Copyright © 2023 by Marcus O. Durham, Ph.D., Th.D.

All rights reserved under U.S. and International Copyright Law. Contents and/or cover may not be reproduced in whole or in part in any form, except for Fair Use, without the express written consent of the Owner / Publisher.

Personal amateur radio (Ham) use is encouraged and permitted. Excerpts may be used, but not modified. Give credit.

More Info

A compilation of over a hundred ham articles is posted at www.evergreencg.org.

Other articles on lightning, grounding, and power are on the company site, www.TheWayLabs.com.

The ham articles are a concise, readable, one-page snapshot of the topic.

Biographical Sketch

Dr. Marcus O. Durham is an active Amateur Extra. His career spans industry, academia, and entrepreneurship. He and Rosemary live on a fabulous ranch, which houses his research lab. He is Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering. His education includes a PhD in Engineering. Then he earned a second PhD in Theology with a heavy dose of history and archaeology.

Rosemary Durham is an active amateur operator. Her career includes business owner, ranch operator, and grandmother. She is a Certified Fire Investigator, Certified Vehicle Fire Investigator, and Certified Color Analyst.

Dr. Marc and Rosemary have written 24 books. He has published over 200 peer-reviewed engineering papers and articles. They co-author a weekly history column for the newspaper. They co-author a weekly article on amateur for their local organization. This is a compilation of some of those articles.

They know how to do, teach, and write so everyone, regardless of background, can experience amateur (ham) radio.

Life is good. Enjoy!

